

Expo Competitors Benchmark: Batch upload

The key function of Expo is the uploading of content. Users are invited to collaborate and share their content. In this part of the competitors benchmark we focus on interfaces that allow users to upload multiple content items at once (or enter complex content) and give the user the opportunity to add meta information to specific items.

Multi upload drag & drop interface

Expo Competitors Benchmark: youtube

This screenshot shows the YouTube upload progress interface. At the top, a progress bar indicates '64% VERWERKT' (64% processed). A blue callout points to the progress bar with the text 'Editing while uploading'. Below the progress bar, there are tabs for 'Basisinformatie' (Basic information) and 'Geavanceerde instellingen' (Advanced settings). A blue callout points to these tabs with the text 'Tabs for general and advanced information'. The 'Basisinformatie' tab is active, showing fields for 'Uploadstatus' (Upload complete), 'Beschrijving' (Description), 'Tags' (e.g., albert einstein, vliegend varken, compilaties), and 'Openbaar' (Public). A blue callout points to the 'Openbaar' dropdown with the text 'Add to playlist and quick ,add new playlist''. The 'Geavanceerde instellingen' tab is also visible, showing options for 'Reacties' (Comments), 'Licentie en rechten eigendom' (License and ownership), 'Syndicatie' (Syndication), 'Ondertiteling' (Captioning), and 'Distributie' (Distribution).

This screenshot shows the YouTube upload interface for selecting files. The main area is titled 'Bestanden selecteren om te uploaden' (Select files to upload) and includes a large upload button. On the right, there are sections for 'VIDEO'S IMPORTEREN' (Import videos) and 'VIDEO'S MAKEN' (Create videos). The 'VIDEO'S MAKEN' section includes options for 'Webcamopname' (Webcam recording), 'Dienvoorstelling van foto's' (Photo slideshow), 'Google+ Hangouts On Air' (Google+ Hangouts On Air), and 'Videobewerkingsprogramma' (Video editing software). A blue callout points to the upload button with the text 'Multi upload drag & drop interface'.

This screenshot shows the YouTube upload interface for advanced settings. The 'Geavanceerde instellingen' (Advanced settings) tab is active, showing options for 'Reacties' (Comments), 'Licentie en rechten eigendom' (License and ownership), 'Syndicatie' (Syndication), 'Ondertiteling' (Captioning), and 'Distributie' (Distribution). A blue callout points to the 'Geavanceerde instellingen' tab with the text 'Switch to advanced settings'.
